

EAHAD 2026 SPEAKER DISCLAIMER

FOREWORD

Thank you for agreeing to be a speaker/presenter at EAHAD 2026 Congress.

By agreeing to this, you hereby consent to EAHAD the use of your name, photograph, image, presentation, or portions quoted or derived from your presentation in the publication, advertising or promotion of this event and to grant a non-exclusive right to broadcast, record and re-use the content.

You also understand that the event in its entirety and/or portions thereof may be published via the event's website, podcasts, webinars, and other printed or electronic media for promotional purposes of the event and by signing below, you are consenting to all such derivative uses.

We consider it particularly important to clarify the following points:

- Speakers are responsible for submitting presentation and all other materials by the deadlines outlined by EAHAD
- For fully LIVE sessions, speakers are responsible for identifying a back-up presenter in the event of an emergency and sending this information to eahadabs@mci-agency.com
- Presentations will be broadcasted and will also be recorded as a video featuring the slides used during the presentation and accompanied by synchronized spoken/video comments and explanations
- To ensure that the live and the recorded version of the presentation are identical, the presenter will not have the option to indicate slides not to be included as part of the recording

AGREEMENT

ARTICLE 1: PURPOSE

The AUTHOR transfers the non-exclusive rights to EAHAD to broadcast (live or delayed), copy, store, reproduce and represent the oral presentations / lectures held during EAHAD 2026 and post congress dates (depending on what the AUTHOR agreed to in the initial invitation).

ARTICLE 2: DURATION AND GEOGRAPHIC COVERAGE

The copy, storage, broadcast (live or delayed), reproduction and representation rights are transferred to EAHAD for the period determined as per Article 1.

The copy, storage, broadcast (live or delayed), reproduction and representation rights are transferred to EAHAD with no geographical limitation of exploitation.

ARTICLE 3: EXPLOITATION OF THE MATERIAL

The availability period during which the recordings will be made available by EAHAD during the time outlined in Article 1.

ARTICLE 4: SUB-TRANSFER

EAHAD can mandate any third party of its choice to execute the acquired rights related to the copy, storage, reproduction and representation of the material. Any sub transfer will be ruled by a document of understanding between EAHAD and the third party, including the terms of this agreement as a minimum standard.

ARTICLE 5: OBLIGATION OF ENTITY

EAHAD will indicate the name of the AUTHOR and the title of the presentation(s), as well as the date and event of the original presentation.

ARTICLE 6: PRESENTER REMUNERATION

Considering the projects, aims and objectives of EAHAD, the related rights for copy, storage, broadcast (live or delayed), reproduction and representation of the presentation(s) are granted by the AUTHOR on a complimentary basis.

ARTICLE 7: DECLARATIONS

- The AUTHOR declares that he will indemnify EAHAD against claims, remonstrance or "warranty of title" of any kind in conjunction with the material in question.
- The AUTHOR declares that her/his presentation is original and does not include any borrowing from any other work such that this could encompass the author's and/or EAHAD responsibility.
- The AUTHOR declares that the rights for images, graphs, recordings, illustrations etc. used in the presentation have been duly obtained.
- The AUTHOR extends broadcasting rights to the presentation(s) / lecture(s) to EAHAD according to timeframe in Article 1.

I represent and warrant that I have full authority to agree to this disclaimer.
